Faith talk for families: Human life is sacred

It might be easy to say “Yep! I agree” to the above teaching, but how do we live that out. If all life is sacred, how do we recognize that in our daily life? We are called as Catholics to recognize the presence of God in each person we encounter.

Questions to talk about at home during meals or at bedtime, or in the car.

- What is one nice thing you can do for someone else today?
- How do we treat those that aren’t “cool,” or socially acceptable?
- How do we recognize the goodness of people with whom we disagree?